

Macfarlane Group Statement of Compliance - Modern Slavery and the Supply Chain

Our Business Model

Macfarlane is the UK market leader in the distribution of protective packaging products. Macfarlane leverages its purchasing scale to cost-effectively source a comprehensive range of protective packaging products and adds value for the customer by providing independent advice on the most cost-effective product and packaging processes. The manufacturing business utilise design, intellectual property and know-how to provide a bespoke service to support customers, in protecting their products and providing innovative Label solutions.

In compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015, Macfarlane offers the following statement regarding its efforts to prevent slavery and human trafficking in its supply chain.

Policies and Training relating to Modern Slavery within the whole organisation

Macfarlane is committed to social and environmental responsibility and has zero tolerance for slavery and human trafficking. We hold ourselves and our supply chain accountable and we comply with the provisions of the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We recognise that modern slavery is a complex supply chain issue, and we work in partnership with our Customers, Suppliers, and other organisations to help develop long-term solutions to this issue.

Supply Chain Management

A number of our customers conduct audits on the business, which are published on the Supplier Ethical Data Exchange (Sedex). This is a web-based database where suppliers post labour standards information.

We also conduct a number supplier audits which review aspects of the supply chain including safety, human trafficking, child labour and other legal requirements.